About Elevate Homes

Elevate Homes is an award-winning company creating quality, high-end transportable homes with a contemporary architectural approach. Our homes are designed to maximise light, create a sense of space and bring together beautiful finishes and craftsmanship with practical, easy-living layouts.

Our standard home designs range from compact 70m² homes to spacious 154m² family homes, with bespoke options also available. Of course, 'standard' is just a starting point. With our in-house architectural and interior design team, you can personalise the layout, finishes and details to create a home that feels truly yours.

We build homes for sites across New Zealand. North Island homes are built in our Cambridge yard, and we're establishing a new base in Cromwell to build and deliver homes throughout the South Island. With your home built in under 22 weeks and a fixed price agreed at the outset, you'll have greater certainty around timing and cost, giving you peace of mind along the way.

Why Elevate Homes?

Architecturally designed and beautifully crafted: Elevate homes are designed by our experienced in-house architectural team to make the most of space and light, with easy-living layouts and stunning contemporary designs. Working closely with our architectural and interior design teams, you can personalise the layout, finishes and details to make your home truly and uniquely yours.

An easier design and build process: We help you make the key decisions for your home at an initial meeting, then our experienced team gets on with the build. With regular updates along the way, you can enjoy seeing your home take shape while we manage the day-to-day construction.

Your home built in under 22 weeks: Our streamlined process allows us to build your home in under 22 weeks. While we build in the yard, much of your site preparation can happen at the same time, ensuring you move into your new home sooner.

Quality controlled at every stage: Tried and tested materials, consistent building systems and dedicated project management help maintain quality throughout your build. Our architectural, interior design and construction teams work closely together, with quality checks at every stage.

Fixed price building contracts: A fixed-price building contract gives you certainty around the agreed cost of your home. We explain what is included and help you identify the additional transport and site costs to budget for. Regular updates keep you informed throughout the build.

Key Features of an Elevate Home

Award-winning design
Attention to detail and award-winning design are characteristics common across Elevate homes. Each house is designed to maximise light and create a sense of space throughout.

Warm, dry, healthy homes
All homes are fully insulated and designed to meet New Zealand Building Code requirements. Exterior windows and doors are thermally broken, with argon-filled, low-E double glazing for efficient insulation. A rigid bracing layer wraps the full perimeter of the building to add extra strength and stability.

Bespoke custom-made kitchens and cabinetry
Highly specified kitchens are the heart of an Elevate home. Engineered stone worktops, sleek soft close drawers and doors, quality appliances and tapware are just some of the features that blend form and function in these custom-made kitchens.

High-end fittings and finishes
Premium bathroom fittings and tapware from European and New Zealand brands have been selected as standard for Elevate homes for their quality, design and function. Premium carpets and stylish, commercial-grade laminate flooring are used underfoot, while pendant and LED lighting are among the special features that set these homes apart.

Stunning storage solutions
Spacious, extra-wide bedroom wardrobes, deep and ample cupboards in kitchens and smart hidden-away storage in bespoke cabinetry units are elegant and handy features of these homes. So practical, yet so very stylish.

What our clients had to say...

"The reason we chose an Elevate Home was due to their enthusiasm and passion to produce a high-end, quality and cost effective architectural transportable. We wanted to have certainty on build cost and felt that the transportable would give us a lot more assurance around the price compared to building on site. Nothing was a problem. Quality control is on site with the team. Building consents, engineers, interior design - it was all done for us - the build was an absolute breeze."

"We have had so many people come and knock on our door asking about our house, they can't believe it's a transportable home, on average we have had one person a day walk in over the summer and talk to us about the house and have shown a few people through it as well. The house has been the talk of Whangamata and we have had such positive feedback, everyone just loves it."

We live 4 hours away however we were kept regularly updated with photos and emails. We were able to just get on with life and leave our build in Elevates' capable hands. It was an incredibly enjoyable process."
